THE 1952 WHIRLIGIG PUBLISHED BY

THE STUDENTS OF GREENSBORO SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

DEDICATED TO... OUR PARENTS

DEDICATION

Who supply the special little things that mean so much—a favorite bottle of perfume, a new tie, a party dress, the extra money for the "big date"? Who are always there with cheery smiles and a boundless interest in all that we do? Who not only share our joys when we succeed, but also help us to bear our disappointments when we fail? Who have unselfishly made their only goal the satisfying of all our needs? Who have worked ceaselessly—oftentimes without even a "Thank you" — just to experience an overwhelming feeling of pride when we finally achieve our objective and step up to receive our diplomas? Why, Mom and Dad, of course. Only they could possibly mean so much to us. And so with sincere appreciation for all of the love and understanding they have given us, we dedicate this, our 1952 issue of Whirligig, to our most faithful "fans"—our parents.

FOREWORD

Let us look together at our school. What is "Senior" to us? Is it an institution of learning: a series of class rooms where the apparent function of teachers seems to be loading us down with home work until we are rewarded with a diploma after years of beating our brains out? Or is it that mad rush to home room every morning to keep from getting a little pink slip? Is it plays and assemblies, parades and football games, club meetings and May Day? Is it sharing a bulging locker, dashing out to the smoking area between classes, or off to "Sunset" for a snack? Is it the friends we've made and the friendships we'll keep? We believe that our school is all of these . . . and much, much more. So, with the help of our mascot Horatio Catbate, who from this book's earliest beginnings displayed a keen interest in all that was going on, we try in this 1952 Whirligig to portray as completely as possible all that "Senior" means to us. We begin with the busy morning; we go on through the rush of activities that fill our afternoon; and "Good night" comes after the fun and memories of a wonderful day.

N THE EVENING

MORNING

The crowded halls before the eight-thirty bell . . . Announcements in homeroom . . . Where IS everybody? School bus late again . . . Overdue library slips; I can't find that book . . . ADMINISTRATION

BIG DECISIONS

Doubling as Dean of Students and head of the History Department, Miss Blackmon is known, above all, as a friend to each of us.

A desk piled high with papers, the ring of a busy phone, a ready word of advice or a cheerful smile — these things identify our principal, Mr. Routh.

After rummaging through his crowded office files, Mr. Anderson, Assistant Principal, also an English teacher, finds that certain detail and gives us a winning smile.

JUNE, 1952 . . . AND NOW THE WORLD

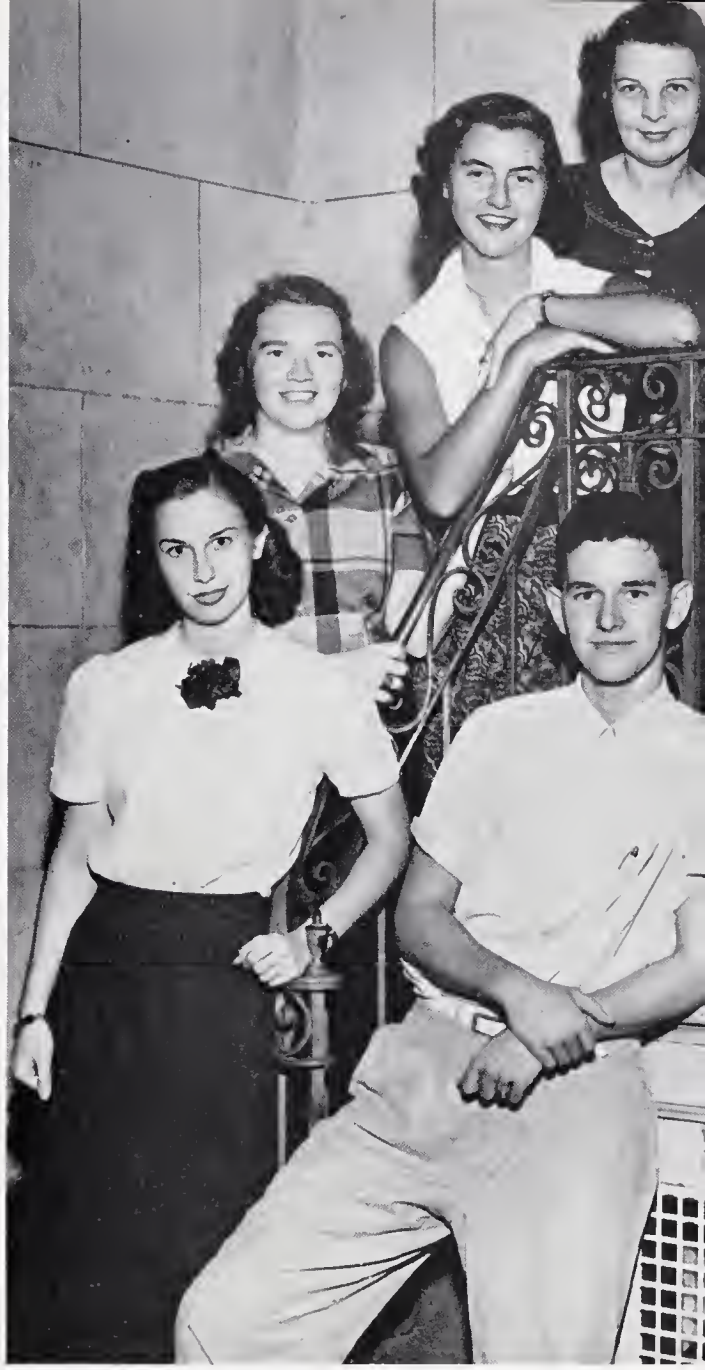
BEFORE US . . . SENIORS

During those first two years of senior high school, when we were only dreaming of becoming seniors, we thought little of the challenges and the responsibilities that would come hand in hand with the fun we rightly expected. This year has brought both, in full. Along with that memorable trip to Washington and all those special senior privileges, such as first chance at registration and going to assembly before the others, we found ourselves the leaders in our social and service organizations, the editors of our publications, and the captains of our sports teams.

We were greatly appreciative of the help given us by our hard-working adviser, Mrs. Hicks, in such projects as selling Christmas cards, theatre tickets, and class pins to raise money for the yearbook.

The sudden realization that only two semesters of high school stood between us and a cold and confusing world put us all into a frantic state of having to choose a college or a vocation without college. We reached our decisions, and we went about making preparations for the future.

Our graduation is a beginning. The courage and the initiative that we have gained through our experiences as seniors will help to make this beginning a good one.



Directing Senior Class activities has been the responsibility of, top to bottom. Mrs. Frances Hicks, Adviser; Carolyn Welch, Secretary; Nancy Haithcock, Treasurer; Janet Davis, Vice-President; and DeArmon Hunter, President.

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE

OF THINGS . . . JUNIORS

Working "in the middle of things" is quite a new experience for the Class of 1953. Growing a year older has helped us realize more fully our responsibilities. By selling picture post cards of our school and ribbons for our football games, we have earned two hundred dollars to contribute to the Whirligig. We provide the school with marshals for all events; and with the able assistance of Miss Wales, our faculty adviser, we gave a most successful Thanksgiving program in assembly. We are full of anticipation that next year will be as wonderful and worthwhile as this year has been.

Though Beowulf's final, fatal fight happened around fifteen centuries ago, if ever, it still brings suffering when Miss Mims' English class hear about it.

And though Hamlet's "To be or not to be . . ." soliloquy may never have happened at all, it still brings suffering to Miss Powell's English class when they have to quote it from memory.

Oh-oh! A timed writing in Miss Harrill's class. Let's see, that's 20 words over 19 mistakes.

OFF TO A GOOD

START . . . SOPHOMORES

Every September there comes to Senior High a multitude of innocent children known as sophomores. They are afraid—afraid of the school, afraid of the teachers, and afraid of the upperclassmen.

Finding out what senior high school life is like is sometimes a painful process, but this class has had no trouble in becoming a real part of the school. They have survived the regular pitfalls of working locker locks, finding out just what exams are, and getting acquainted with the other students and the teachers. What is more, they earned far more than their class' part of the yearbook fund. Ask any sophomore now and he will say, "Senior High? It's really fine!"

The advanced art class in crafts is creative in a wide variety of ways. Here they exhibit a few of their masterpieces, along with themselves and teacher, Mrs. Grace Faver. Front row, sitting, left to right: Sylvia Phillips, Bess Bach, John Mills, Ben Nita Black. Ends of table: Dave Wright, Cynthia Baker. Third row: Carole Smith, Frances Hosley, Dolores Maness, Eleanor Patterson, Julia Blanchard, Mrs. Faver, Sandra Dyer. Last row: Andrew McGlamery, Mike Floyd, Bob Gladwell, Gene Douglas.

The girls' swimming team, coached into superb form by Mr. Bob Jamieson, have brought home cups and other trophies to prove that they have set some important records in state and regional swimming meets. They are, left to right, Barbara Jamieson, Sara Roberts, Kitten Barringer, and Shay Harris. Right, some of the faster members of the boys' basketball team work up even more speed in intensive practice.

School and class nominating conventions get as heated, as colorful, and as noisy as any national convention.

TORCHLIGHT

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

"It is the aim of Torchlight, the National Honor Society, to develop a unified personality based upon the four qualities of character, scholarship, service, and leadership. We realize such a personality is never completely achieved but is a growing concept. It is our hope that this may aid in the development of the well-rounded personality which will find joy in living and satisfaction in service." With this speech, the president of Torchlight opens the impressive tapping ceremony which takes place twice a year, once in the fall when Seniors are taken in, and again in the spring when both Seniors and Juniors are chosen. To be selected for membership in this organization is considered one of the highest honors which a student can receive. In the fall Torchlight joins with the Diversified Occupations Classes in sponsoring College Day; and in the spring the Torchlight Talent Show is given to raise money for its scholarship fund. Miss Mims is the group's adviser.

QUILL AND SCROLL

IMAGINATION AND PRINTER'S INK

Outstanding literary efforts sometimes reap a just reward. This is true if these efforts result in a real contribution toward the success of one of the school publications-newspaper or yearbook. Quill and Scroll, which has a chapter at Senior High, is a national honorary society for school journalists. Its main object is to stimulate and to develop creative writing.

One of the most interesting assembly programs of the whole year was that given by Quill and Scroll in March. The adviser, Mr. Sam Underwood, managed to persuade the very busy Chancellor House of the University of North Carolina to be the main speaker. Also at this assembly the members of the local chapter were formally presented to the student body.

Each year the most outstanding member receives a silver loving cup.

In addition to books, all types of audio-visual materials are circulated through the Senior High Library. These films are shown by student members of the Library Staff. This Staff is composed of two trained librarians, Miss Mildred Herring and Miss Winona Walker, Jesse Brown, who is employed on the Diversified Occupations Program, and twenty-six student assistants from the Junior and Senior classes, who became members of the North Carolina High School Library Association.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

THE WORLDLY TOUCH

A Yankee twang is frequently heard among the Southern drawls at Senior, and sometimes there is an accent harder to identify, which, chances are, belongs to one of G.H.S.'s foreign students. Many of our students were born in foreign countries or have lived there. Three of these took part in a series of radio programs given by Mr. Fredrickson and the history department during United Nations Week last fall.

Varonj Yegchiaian, center, latest arrival, came from Iran in July, 1951. Rene Zapata, left, came to the United States from Guatemala City in 1950. John Sanvajot moved with his family from Normandy in 1945. He has lived in Greensboro since 1949.

Becky Phipps gets out a letter to all the vocational teachers in the city schools for her boss, who is head of the Vocational Department.

HOME FIRES BURNING

After the countless hours spent on that particular blouse, one begins to wonder if a "stitch in time saves nine." Miss York's Home Economics students, right, are busy getting ready to serve those hungry Student Council advisers during their two-day Congress here.

Dishing up specialties and tasting their concoctions make these girls feel at home on Miss York's ranges.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

"KEEP RIGHT!"

Traffic Chief Fred Ayers, right, and Bill Michael, assistant chief, demonstrate the thorough and sure way in which they can direct traffic around Senior. Mr. Anderson, adviser for the squad, feels safe in their hands.

With fourteen hundred students moving from one class to another every hour, traffic is a real problem here at G.H.S. Serving as the policemen for this traffic are a group known as the "Traffic Squad." They prevent congestion at doors and on steps, generally keeping the traffic flowing without "jams."

No matter how anxious we are to get to class, we move as the traffic squad members direct.

WHEEL CLUB

NO BACK SEAT DRIVING HERE

Each day over 1200 pupils are transported safely to and from the schools by school buses. The drivers, who are students at Senior, have their own organization, the Wheel Club.

Under the faculty supervision of Mr. Taylor and Mr. Jones, the 22 drivers serve 12 schools. Each driver covers an average of 42 miles daily. During the school year approximately 440,000 passengers are carried by the school buses.

The very popular Director of Vocal Music, Miss Tuttle, laughs at one of the choir "wits."

CHOIR

MUSIC'S GOLDEN TONGUE

After diligently vocalizing to get into "good voice," in the fall the Choir gave a vaudeville show, "Cobwebs and Capers," with the Orchestra. In the spring, Senior's Dorothy Kirstens and Mario Lanzas sang all over town for audiences which ranged from Greensboro College girls to Rotarians. Some other highlights of the year were a program with the Band, the State Contest, and the memorable Baccalaureate Sermon, which was the last time the Senior members sang with the rest of the group. Miss Tuttle's original wit and superb direction are two important factors which contribute to the outstanding success of the Choir.

"Cobwebs and Capers," the vaudeville show presented by the Choir this year, was hailed as a top-notch success.

SINGING "GUYS AND DOLLS"

The Glee Clubs at Greensboro Senior High School are composed of the Boys' Chorus, the Advanced Girls' Glee Club, and the first and second period Girls' Glee Clubs. Each of these groups attends the State Contest; and, due to the fine directing of Miss Eula Tuttle, choral leader, the rating they receive is usually top-notch.

The Girls' Glee Clubs are large groups, and for their annual assembly programs they combine their efforts and talents into one big show. The Boys' Chorus is a comparatively small group, thus affording them individual attention. Because of all the masculine voices, their chapel program is distinctive and, according to the feminine population, very popular.

Student Council adviser, Miss Dorothy McNairy, lends a much needed helping hand to the tabulation of votes from the sophomore elections.

The most important organization in our high school is the Student Council, for it is the student—faculty "go-between." Through it the students, faculty, and the P.T.A. work together on various projects. Besides promoting leadership, the Student Council emphasizes citizenship and school spirit.

Among its many activities this year, the largest project was holding the Congress of North Carolina Student Councils in Greensboro. Senior's Council, along with that of Curry High School, entertained approximately three hundred delegates for two days.

Other events sponsored by the Council include school dances, May Day, and school elections. Once again, Miss McNairy guided the Council through a successful year.

The Student Council busily discusses plans for the Congress of North Carolina Student Councils which was held here in October.

VOLUME XXVI | SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., NOVEMBER 14, 1939 | NUMBER 5

. . . BUT NO HANGOVER

You see the finished results every second Friday. The neat, gleaming High Life is delivered to whatever room you're in, and you rush to see what Janet has said about whoever it may concern in her gossip column, to take in the pictures, to hunt for your name in the honor roll, and occasionally to read the editorials.

But what you don't see is the constant behind-the-scene action that is necessary to publish a high school newspaper. You don't see the horde of advertisement-seeking students or the fevered make-up on Wednesday. You don't see the split infinitives, as does the proof reader, or the taut looks on the editors' faces as a three-column head refuses to print right. And you fail to see the work and the time given by Mr. Sam J. Underwood, adviser, Mr. A. P. Routh, financial adviser, and Mrs. Grace Faver, art adviser. But we who experience to the full both the anguish and the relief . . . we are the ones who get a thrill from the finished product.

Preparing copy for the printer has its brand of kibitzers too.

Henry Ferrell, left, and the High Life staff talk over plans to make the next issue more humorous. Row nearest camera, left to right: Janet Frederick, Martha Moore, Ann Fordham. Second row: Patsy Eways, Grey Egerton, Ann Fullton, Steve Leonard, Gay Williamson. Third row: Joanne Gourley, Barbara Barrier, Beverly Shoff, Lois Pond, Joyce Strother, and Mr. Underwood.

That last x-ray-eyed scrutiny of the "make-up" is serious business for Martha Moore, Patsy Eways, Richard Ledbetter, Bill Whedbee, Mary Lee Wells, Joyce Strother, and Janet Frederick.

It's "Merry Christmas" from Dottie Dillard, Assistant Business Manager, making another sale of Christmas candles.

"We made it!" beams Mose Kiser, Business Manager, as he checks off the final item on the budget.

WHIRLIGIG

HERE WE ARE IN PRINT AND PICTURES

"There are three alternatives," Mr. Routh informed us at the beginning of the year: "You can have a yearbook comparable to last year's; you can change to a lithographed book; or, as a last resort, the book can be discontinued altogether." The final answer was a financial one which was decided after a very successful sale of books last fall. Mose and his staff became expert at breaking down resistance to their ad and sponsorship sales talks.

The departure of our former adviser had left us in a spot. Miss Powell bravely volunteered to rescue us and has been indispensable ever since. Without her mathematical ability we could never have lived through all the complicated proportions our layouts demanded. Somehow, she managed to keep us

Miss Virginia Powell, adviser in more ways than one, looks over pictures of our husky gridiron stars for the football lay-out.

Betty Jane Davis, everybody's main assistant, begins to think this job should be called "Jack-of-all-trades" instead of "Editor-in-Chief."

straight, and at the seemingly darkest moment, her encouragement kept us going.

One afternoon last October, while we were all diligently working, Horatio made his debut from a hole under the radiator. Since his curiosity and noseyness seemed typical of all of us at Senior, we decided to let him introduce our theme and appear throughout the book. Soon, however, he made a forced departure for the Biology lab, and has been with us in spirit only ever since.

Dave Wright, Art Editor, and Cynthia Baker, Assistant Art Editor, add the finishing touches to their "blue ribbon" masterpieces.

During the Christmas holidays before our engraving deadline, we moved for greater space to the "outer sanctum" equipped with our picnic lunches and a coffee pot. Faithful members of the staff came through snow, sleet, and rain to do their part. Countless nights as we left school, we groped our way blindly through a pitch-black auditorium and carefully locked the door behind us.

Our heads still ring with familiar cries: "Here comes Norma in the window again"

"Wonder how this group would look standing on their heads?" asks Norma Veney, Photography Editor, while she, Joyce Strother, Organizations Editor, and Jack Coleman, Assistant Photography Editor, plan the pictures for the Whirligig.

. . . "Think of a sub-head for this, Barb" . . . "Elliot, how many ads did you bring in today?" . . . How'd it get so late so soon?" . . . "Have any more proofs come back yet?" . . . "Who can work on Saturday?" . . . "Betty Jane, where's the baseball layout?" . . . "John, cut some more panels." . . .

Then, finally after we'd so nearly given up hope of ever finishing, our dummy was on

"And make that copy peppy," is the order Carol Stroud, Literary Editor, gives to Tommy Fesperman, Sports Editor, and Barbara Beavers, Assistant Literary Editor, as they think up more material for Janet Brooks and Sara Ann Hickerson to type. its way to Charlotte . . . to emerge months later as this 1952 Whirligig. The staff members don't need a yearbook; we know it by heart. Every page brings its own special memories. Although we had many "downs" we somehow had as many "ups"; and for nothing in the world would we exchange the wonderful and valuable experience and all the fun we had creating the 1952 edition of Whirligig.

A DAY IN MAY, 1951

Anxious glances were turned toward overcast skies on the afternoon of May third. The student chairmen, Sallie Boren and Bill Greene, were especially worried. After months of planning with the faculty advisers, Miss Gabriel, Miss McNairy, and Mrs. Newman, surely it couldn't rain! This story has a happy ending as fortune and the sun finally smiled on Senior's May Day.

Accompanied by music by the band, the seventeen ladies of the court entered with their escorts. This year for the first time the escorts demonstrated their talents by joining in the minuet.

For the entertainment of the queen and spectators, various groups prersented dances portraying American dancing from the Indian days through the present day samba. The kindergarten gave the May Pole dance, and the program ended with the recessional.

THE SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL BAND

"THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT OUR HIGH SCHOOL BAND"

The G.H.S. Band, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Hazelman, assisted by Mr. David Arner and Mr. George Toenes, has been as busy as a dog with two tails for the past year. About the third or fourth week in August the vocational building trembled as almost one hundred musicians and noisemakers blasted forth with marches for the coming football season, and the Senior High gridiron was trampled by one hundred and twenty pairs of marching feet.

After half-time shows for five home games, two games away, and college games at Duke and Carolina, the band wound up its marching days and skidded into the concert season with the Christmas concert and an assembly program.

The winter and spring months were crammed with appearances. St. Valentine's Day was hailed with the music of Mendelssohn, Sibelius and others by the combined forces of the Band and Choir. A program for the Woman's College girls followed the annual Spring Concert, which was pursued by another chapel program, a dress rehearsal for the highlight of the year, the State Contest.

Majorettes, left, take that "7th inning stretch," the ten-minute break after the half-time show. Mr. Hazelman, right, helps the cornets over one of those "rough spots" just before the Valentine Concert.

The band salutes Carolina at the Carolina-State game at Chapel Hill.

"One and two and—" Mr. Hazelman keeps the root-a-toot-toots together.

Who says our band isn't a "booming success"?

The feminine members of the glee clubs, below, join the band to present one of those special-feature half-time shows.

No performance was scheduled for the Thanksgiving game, but the team still had music and support from the band.

This December 14 concert started off very soberly with "Slow March from 'Scipio' "; but it ended with the sparkling songs from "The King and I."

ORCHESTRA

THEY'VE CAPTURED OUR HEART STRINGS

The Orchestra has steadily grown year by year with the present membership standing at eighty. Perhaps one reason for this growth is the large number of varied and tempting activities offered by the group. Early in the fall the Orchestra began practice for the concert which they gave for the student body in chapel. Work for State Contest was started at the beginning of the second semester with hopes that the "Superior" rating which they have consistently achieved in the past might be earned again. Many of the members were chosen to represent the organization in the All-State Orchestra. By comparison with the proverbial "soup to nuts," the versatility of our Orchestra ranges from "Chopsticks" to Bach.

Besides playing music for string and full orchestra, many of the members have been divided into groups for ensembles. These are the students chosen for this work.

AND SPEECH

THE PLAY'S THE THING

Interest in dramatics increased mightily this year. Partly responsible for this minor renaissance was the revival of "Playmasters," a drama organization. While this group of comedians and tragedians worked to interpret or produce various plays and experimental skits, several of the members delved into public speaking and came up with state and regional honors.

Choosing the right play, upper right, presents almost as many problems as giving it. The audience, lower right, misses some of a play's best scenes.

BASEBALL . . . 1951

WHIRLIES SUCCESSFULLY DEFEND NORTHERN DIVISION TITLE

Coach Julian Smith took over as head coach this year, and the Whirlies welcomed him by winning eight straight games. Included in this streak was a brilliant no-hit shutout by All-State mound-ace, Jack Thomas. Burlington broke this string, but the powerful Whirlies promptly won three more games before losing the last game to Winston-Salem. For the second straight year Greensboro won the Northern Division of the Western Class AAA Conference, but lost the State Championship play-offs to Gastonia.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

AN ACTION STORY

Sophomore girls who join in the athletic program admire those outstanding upper classmen in athletics. The president of the council, that good guard or forward, and the girl who can best hit and throw a softball become ideals. As Juniors the girls find that the goal has moved within reach and is a living aim to strive for. With the Senior year comes achievement: making the "team," being elected to the athletic council, being chosen the superlative, or, as highest honor, being awarded the athletic cup. This is the girl athletes' story—complete with fun, health, and action.

GOLF, TENNIS, AND TRACK

The golf team finished a good year by placing fourth in the state meet. Crawford and Hughes alternated for the first position. Kennerly won the Charlie Baker trophy for the most outstanding golfer.

In tennis LeBauer, Hudson, and Stanton carried the team through a very successful season. Stanton and Hudson played in the state meet doubles, while LeBauer entered the singles.

GO TO THE LOFT FOR A LIFT

The Youth Center's activities for this year began last spring with the election of the Youth Council. Headed by Dave Wright and Norma Veney, this group plans the festivities.

After three months of summer fun, the campaign for new members began. De Hunter won a "jalopy," awarded for selling the most memberships.

The Loft provides an always entertaining place to go. Besides regular afternoon and week-end gatherings, each week sees something new. Members enjoy television, open house after football games, slumber parties, hayrides, dances and many other activities all year around.

The Youth Center Council meets regularly to plan events and policies that keep the Loft popular and the activities varied. KEY CLUB

KEYS TO SUCCESS

Key Club officers are, left to right, Edwin Pearce, Secretary; Bill Michael, Vice-President; Mose Kiser, Treasurer; and Jimmie Betts, President.

During the past four years the Key Club has been steadily fulfilling its threefold purpose of serving the school, developing leaders, and building better citizens. The main service project of the Key Club is the publication of the student directory. Holiday season finds the club members spraying and decorating a large Christmas tree for the main hall. The Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and is an International Organization. Key Clubbers long remember their trips to yearly conventions, especially the International Convention, held this year in Chicago. Parties, honoring the new members, are special occasions for Key Club boys and their dates.

NOT DEADLY, BUT . . .

Good times began for the D.D.T.'s this year with a hayride for all members and their dates. The weather was icy that night, but nothing stopped the D.D.T.'s from having a good time. Long before Christmas the club members were planning their annual dance, held at the Greensboro Country Club on December 21. The rest of the year was filled with parties and Wednesday afternoon meet-

The club was organized in 1947 and became the first social group at Greensboro Senior High School. Many club activities were originated by the charter members, and these yearly events are eagerly anticipated by each D.D.T. With Patty Vaughn as President the club has experienced a highly eventful and successful year. Miss Virginia Powell is adviser, succeeding Mrs. Estelle LeGwin.

G.W.I. CLUB

NEVER A DULL MOMENT

Still tanned from a very eventful week at Ocean Drive, the G.W.I.'s started this year with a party for new and departing members. Initiations were held the night of September 14, at the football game with Raleigh. The eleven new members were duly received into the club.

"Never a dull moment" really seemed to be the motto as various activities occupied the autumn months. The G.W.I.'s held a floor show for the Youth Center's Halloween carnival, had a November hayride, and made cartoon scrapbooks for veterans' hospitals. During the Christmas holidays the club gave a progressive dinner for members and their dates. As projects they supplied a needy family with food, clothing, and toys for the children, and sold double-barred red crosses for the Tuberculosis drive.

At the weekly Tuesday afternoon meetings plans were in progress for other activities during the year. During the winter the group began planning for the dance, which is traditionally given in the spring. Last year it was held in April for approximately five hundred teen-agers. The club looks forward to the event which has become a highlight of the spring semester.

Up a tree go the Les Soeur officers. Bottom to top: Pat Coble, Youth Center Representative; Margot Hammond, Treasurer; Pat Gregg, Secretary; Alice Mitchell, Publicity Chairman; Mary Jane Moring, Vice-President; and Norma Veney, President.

In order to start the "Les Soeurian" year off with a traditional bang, the "Sisters" held a late summer party at the home of Christie Simpson, thereby bidding adieu to their graduate Seniors. As the year progressed, so did the Les Soeurs with the planning and actual carrying out of such events as the eye-catching Les Soeurs Follies at the Youth Center's Halloween Carnival, and the annual Christmas time floating supper—resplendent this year with fried chicken.

Because the girls have so much enjoyed helping needy families through the Welfare Agency in the past, the interest has been carried on to this year also, in hopes that such a worthy project may be continued for many years to come. Speaking of annual events, the most important and long-awaited social function of the year comes for the Les Soeurs in March when, surrounded by shamrocks and blarney, they hold their Saint Patrick's Day celebration. Two years ago this was in the form of a dance, and last year the club gave a tea to which they invited some 400 members of other social clubs.

Using a beach trip as the most perfect ending for another year, Les Soeurs, one of the oldest social clubs at Senior High, annually makes the proclamation that they've had the biggest and best year yet!

Conducting a "Dorothy Dix" session with Senior members, we find the club's beloved adviser, Miss Margie Gabriel, alias "Gabe."

"WHEN THE SAINTS COME MARCHING IN"

Back to school—and the L.S.P.'s began another busy year. New members were properly initiated as Little Saints, complete with celestial robe and tinseled halo. L.S.P.'s went all out for the Youth Center Halloween Carnival, for which the club sponsored their annual raffle. A confusion of lists, invitations, contracts, and refreshments ended in their successful Christmas Dance at the King Cotton Hotel Ballroom, which was followed by a breakfast at the Plantation Supper Club. Christmas also had a serious meaning for club members, as in a group the girls took food and gifts to a family suggested by the Welfare Department. The New Year held another succession of projects and parties for the L.S.P.'s. Come summer—and every member anticipates the annual beach trip, not to mention numerous club festivities.

L.S.P. new members grin sheepishly at their "Big Sisters," afraid they have more tasks for them to do.

NU PHI MU

ALPHA CHAPTER

The Alpha Chapter of the Nu Phi Mu was introduced in Senior in 1949. The basic aim of Nu Phi Mu is friendship, and the Alpha Chapter also holds this purpose. The girls first promoted the idea through good times together; this year was started off by a hay-ride on October 20. The second phase of friendship, service to others, was emphasized when the group helped a needy family at Christmas. Soon after the holiday season, plans were in the air for a dance later in the year. Through their varied program of social and service activities, the Alphas carry out the principles for which the organization was first founded.

Each meeting is climaxed with food and drinks. Cokes . . . we hope!

BETA CHAPTER

The Betas, a newly organized chapter of the Nu Phi Mu, have come a long way since their first meetings. Plans for a spring dance and a summer beach trip have brought much excitement to the club members. The girls look forward to the meetings held every other Thursday, topping off each gathering with delicious refreshments served by the hostess. As service to their community they have gathered up old clothing for one of the local civic organizations and filled a basket for a needy family at Christmas.

Many useful skills are learned at the meetings.

There's no one they'd rather serenade than themselves.

No one ever has to yell "Food!" more than once.

Listening in on their President, Lois Pond, are Carole Smith, Secretary; Doris Joseph, Vice-President; Carolyn Walker, Youth Center Representative; and Carolyn Alston, Treasurer.

Members relax with cokes and gossip after business is over.

It's quite evident as to what the highlight of the meeting is.

SANS SOUCI

WITHOUT A CARE

The Sans Souci Club members meet every other Thursday, and between discussing choice bits of gossip they carry out the important business which ends in party after party for themselves and their dates. The first of these social festivities was a hayride in the fall. The club's yearly dance, held last year in January, took place in March of this year. New Sans Souci members were honored at a party in the spring. The highlight of summer festivities is the annual beach trip which, although requiring a lot of preparation, always goes off in fine style. The Sans Souci Club was organized in 1950. This year the members elected miss Margaret Harrill as club adviser and Lois Pond as President.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The Venettes, who are now in their fourth year of combining good times and worthwhile projects, began their busy year in September with a tea honoring the new members. The girls have enjoyed such annual affairs as hayrides, progressive dinners, teas, and a spring dance. The summer beach party is another eagerly anticipated annual event. A scrapbook is kept of their various activities, and the girls enjoy looking through it to bring back the memories of the many good times they have enjoyed together. Included among these are many charity projects which the Venettes are constantly engaging in and which they consider a vital part of their club activity.

This year the W.S.T.'s enjoyed a series of activities beginning with the initiation of new members in September. Their annual dance, held November 10 in the King Cotton Ballroom, was the first club dance of the school year. At Christmas time each member contributed food and clothing for a needy family. A Mother-Daughter Tea, given in honor of next year's new members, was a springtime function of the club. In July the W.S.T.'s will leave with a bag and baggage for Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, for their annual beach trip. The club was organized in 1949 and headed this year by Sara Ann Hickerson, President.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR HI-Y CLUB

Y'S GUYS

The activities of the Junior and Senior Hi-Y Club for the past year have been directed toward service for the school and the community. During football season Hi-Y members served as ushers at all home games. The club also sponsored an assembly program on Boy-Girl Relations early in the fall. Delegates have attended the conclave in Fayetteville, North Carolina; the Y.M.C.A. Centennial Convention in Cleveland, Ohio; and the Blue Ridge Officers' Training Camp.

Throughout the year there are many good times for Hi-Y boys. Especially looked forward to is the annual hayride which, according to the club members, is always a huge success. Junior and Senior Hi-Y meetings are held at the Y.M.C.A. each Monday night. Bain Alexander leads the club as President, Mr. Lacy W. Anderson is the faculty adviser, and Mr. Monroe Monday is the Y.M.C.A. director for the club.

Two Hi-Y members enthusiastically battle each other in a game of ping pong after a weekly meeting.

SOPHOMORE HI-Y CLUB

LITTLE Y'S GUYS

A short recreation period is held before the Sophomore Hi-Y meetings at the Y.M.C.A. each Monday night. This year one of the major projects of the club has been to raise twenty-five dollars for the International Hi-Y Fellowship for Y.M.C.A. work in Greece; and plans were made to send two delegates to the Hi-Y Camp this summer. Mr. Monroe Monday is the group's adviser.

Y-TEENS

Y'S GALS

The Y-Teens at Senior are divided into two groups. Sophomores have their own club; Juniors and Seniors combine to form the other. Each section has an adviser and part time assistants from Woman's College.

At the Monday night meetings, a variety of programs is presented. Frequently there is a speaker, and always there is recreation. Different projects such as visits to the County Home are carried out through the year. Social activities round out the Y-Teen schedule.

MARINER SCOUTS

ANCHORS AWEIGH

Off for one last "fling" before school are the Mariners of Mariner Ship Joseph Conrad. Sailing down the Chesapeake, the girls get extra brown while learning all the particulars and essentials of being good sailors. This long-talked-of-voyage lasts about a week, just enough time to have "all the fun in the world" (a direct quote from the Mariners themselves). The winter months are devoted to classes in first aid and other courses valuable to the summer excursion. Miss Kay Lutkins, a physical education director at Woman's College, is their leader.

Athletes who have earned a letter in any of the sports offered at Senior High automatically become members of the Monogram Club. The club has twenty-three members and meets weekly at the Youth Center. Its main purpose is to promote sportsmanship in all school events and to improve school spirit. Each year a Pin-Up Queen contest is held through which the club raises funds for a useful project. Mr. Charles R. Baker is faculty adviser.

Some of the boys discuss the annual Pin-Up Queen Contest which is sponsored by the Monogram Club.

FOOTBALL

This year Greensboro fielded a young, light, inexperienced team that won three games while losing eight. Although this record is far from impressive, the boys did their best and gave their all, which, as it happened, was not enough. The coaching was of the finest, but that's only a part. Spirit was high and the boys had the ability, but two main factors of any winning team were decidedly missing: size and experience. The Whirlies had an average line with the bigger boys in the key slots, but the "pony backfield" was very light; it was possibly the lightest in the conference. As for experience, only eight players returned from last year's squad. None of these were regulars, and only a few had seen action from the previous year.

Head Coach Bob Jamieson is Physical Education Director for all the city schools.

The 1951 season closed successfully, however, with a 14-0 victory over Goldsboro. The other two victories were over Raleigh and Reidsville. These were also shutouts: Raleigh fell 12-0, and Reidsville went down, 7-0. The Salisbury game was called because of bad weather.

Stars were few; but players like Melvin, chosen for the Shrine Bowl; Routh and Betts, two fine flankers; Ledbetter, husky center and line backer; Michael, a stalwart on defense; and Whedbee, Clark, Sneed, and Yost, the offensive leaders, were consistently outstanding.

Not too many years past, this fellow was a star Whirlie himself. He is Charlie Baker, Assistant Coach.

The Whirlies go into their weekly pre-game huddle in which they repeat the Lord's Prayer. This time it is before the High Point game.

Here are the nineteen Senior Whirlies who are donning the Blue and White for the last time. BASKETBALL

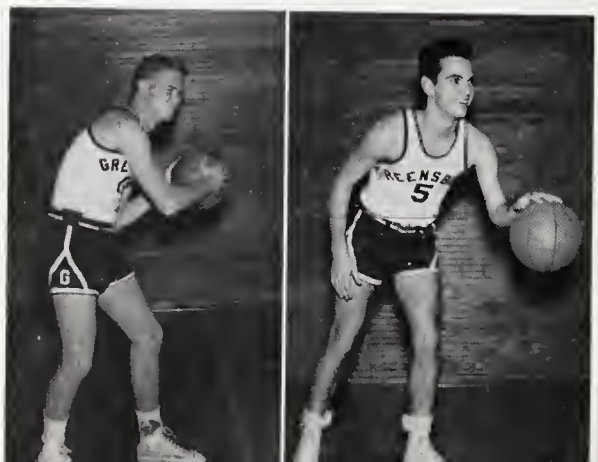
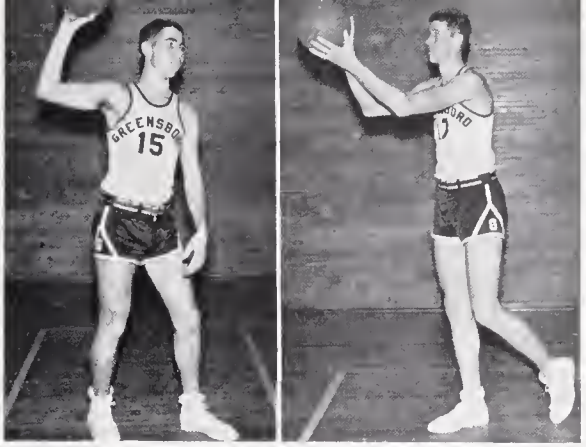
WESTERN AAA CHAMPS AGAIN!

The Whirlies went wild again! Starting the season rarin' to go . . . but with nowhere to go (no gym of their own, that is) . . . they played all home games at Guilford College gym. But this proved no handicap, as the Whirlies lost only one conference game on their "adopted" court. Their record stands at 18 victories and 4 defeats—2 losses to the Elon College J. V.'s and 2 conference losses. The overall conference record is 12-2. Six-foot plus forwards Routh, Stanton (out with an appendectomy during last games) and high scorer Bateman, and guards Edwards and Hudson were unmatchable all season. In the State Tournament at Durham, All-Conference stars Routh, Edwards and Bateman, along with Hudson and the strong bench that backs them, put up a mighty battle for the state championship.



Forwards Jim Hodden and Arden Ashley.



Forward David Brown, Center Larry Bateman.

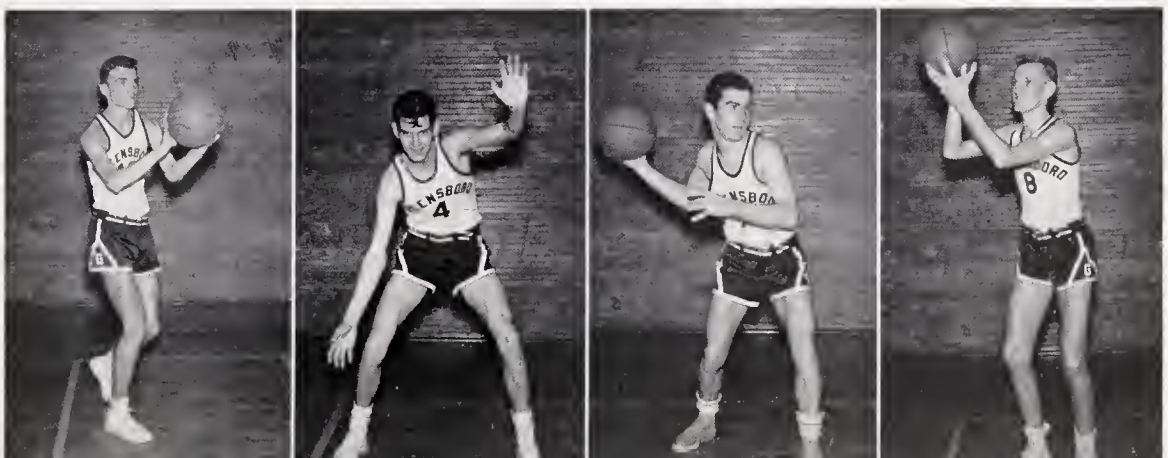
Forward Don Patterson, Guards Rodney Edwards and Ed Harris, Center Charles Hester.



Scoring leader Larry Bateman goes up . . . way up . . . for a push shot that hits against Durham. Paul Stanton is Whirlie in background.

Bateman is making the out-of-bounds play as the team practices in their out-of-bounds gym.

Say, Arden, which girl in the balcony looks that bad? Anyway, Arden Ashley made this lay-up shot against Durham. Joe LeBauer (14) is in the background.

Mr. Anderson's stage crew members perform for success behind the scenes.

Station WGPS has a record collection to meet any and all requests.

Senior's own disc jockey, Milton Alderfer, rides the air waves of WGPS.

"Just mention my name in Sheboygan," Norma Veney tells Dave Wright, with music. Dave appears to wonder which Sheboygan . . . or maybe which name.

Senior's version of the Andrews Sisters . . . Tess Russell, Doris Irving, and Nancy Pugh . . . entertain in chapel with their special arrangement of "Shanghai."

Barbara Whittington and Archie Morris show typical smiles of relief, now that those diplomas are safely in their clutches.

Bill Jarvis effortlessly snares a souvenir.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The Junior-Senior brings another year to a happy ending. Who'll ever forget the Loft dances?

The Christmas Dance at the Youth Center opens the holiday festivities.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Jim Betts and Fred Ayers demonstrate the Key Club spirit by working industriously.

MARSHALS

THEY LEAD THE SCHOOL

No commencement could go off right without marshals, who are everything from gracious hosts and hostesses to "bouncers." Two are honored by being chosen in each Junior home room; they earn the honor again by the services they come through with as marshals. They usher at plays, and concerts during the year, and they help keep Senior adviser's headaches at a minimum around June 1. The marshal's adviser is Mrs. Frances Bailey.

Ready to greet the public with welcoming smiles are Arthur Scott, right, chief marshal, and Tot Wagner, assistant chief.

The marshals are prepared to usher at graduation exercises. First row, left to right: Jean Barricks, Barbara Prago, Tommy Pierce, Dottie Crews, Kenneth Barber, Joanne Hutchinson, Charles Hutton, Kate Wharton, and Anne Fulton. Second row: David Kersey, Barbara Stanford, Bill May, Jackie Scott, Arthur Scott, Ann Flaherty, Dan Haley, Joyce Lee, Tot Wagner, Ann McKay, and Rodney Edwards.

After all this "Pomp and Circumstance" the freedom of graduation will truly seem a "Land of Hope and Glory."

GRADUATION

"You're free," congratulates Mr. B. L. Smith, as Mr. A. P. Routh checks off two more names from his list of "parolees."

FINIS

Finally, a day in the life of us here at Senior has come to a close and with it our 1952 Whirligig is "put to bed." We sincerely hope that we have helped you capture a composite of 1952 for remembrance in the years to come.

To Miss Virginia Powell, our adviser, for her untiring patience and capable supervision we offer our very deepest thanks. We are also greatly indebted to Mr. A. P. Routh, our principal, for his financial guidance and his all-round co-operation.

Mr. Gordon S. Brightman of Jahn & Ollier Company and Mr. Frank Fleming of Lassiter Corporation were most helpful with their frequent visits and the much needed information that they supplied us with. Mr. Carol Martin of Martin's Studio and his assistants, especially Mr. Malcolm Miller, provided the excellent photography. They were always available with camera and suggestions when we needed them.

Nancy Beeson, our faithful Associate Editor, and Dotty Dillard, our reliable Assistant Business Manager, were priceless. Without their ever-ready assistance our book would have been impossible.

Dave Wright contributed his talents in the creation of Horatio Catbate and Cynthia Baker did the lettering for the division pages. Both deserve special recognition.

Shay Harris, John Butt, and Valerie Yow are due much credit for their accurate "measuring, cutting and pasting" of the class panels. Janet Davis who, with the help of Jack Coleman, accurately completed the Senior captions; Norma Veney, who scheduled all of our photography; Carol Stroud, Tommy Fesperman, Barbara Beavers, our resourceful literary editors; and Janet Brooks and Sara Ann Hickerson, who patiently toiled typing pages of copy, were all indispensable.

Evelyn Greenberg, Gay Williamson, Bess Bach, Elliot Solomon, Barbara Kelly, Tommy Pearce, and the other members of the business staff proved their persistence by their success in financing the book.

Lastly, Pat Gregg, Dottie Foster, Stewart Colson, Betty Jane Upchurch, and Barbara Jamieson did their particular jobs well. All were faithful in the late afternoons and during the Christmas holidays. We wish for them complete success in future Whirligigs.

All those who helped make our book are too numerous to mention. But to the teachers and students who each played a part in making such a book possible we offer our heartiest thanks.

Betty Jane and Mose

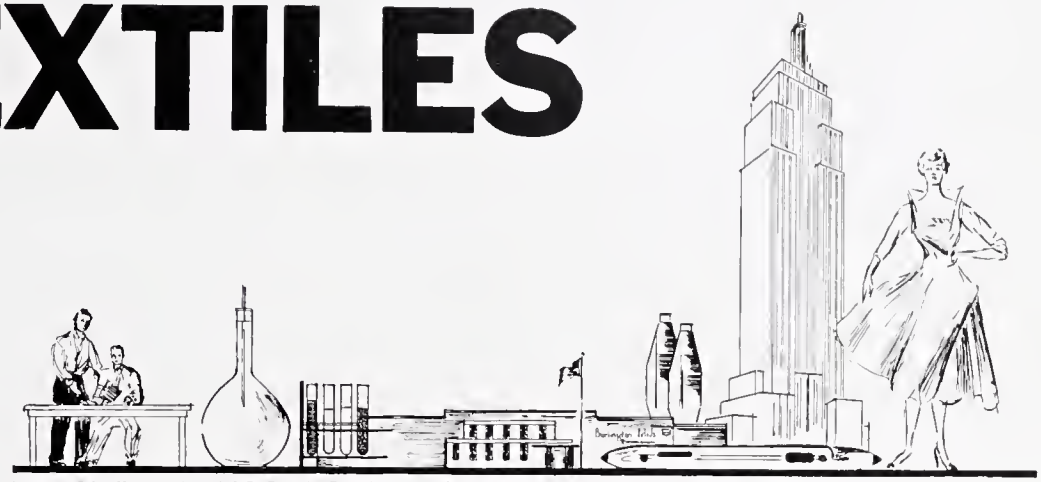
THERE IS A FUTURE IN

TEXTILES



MANUFACTURING • DESIGNING • DEVELOPMENT • RESEARCH • MERCHANDISING • FASHION

The world's oldest manufacturing industry—textiles—is today one of our most exciting and challenging industries, producing revolutionary textile products with qualities which men have sought for centuries. Man-made fibers, new products of the chemist's test-tube, have been a major contributor to this textile progress.

A small textile producer in 1923, Burlington Mills believed in the future of rayon—an early man-made fiber. In the past 28 years Burlington has become a leader in the development and production of beautiful, durable and high-quality filament, spun and knit synthetic fabrics. From one plant with approximately 200 employees, our Company has grown to include 73 manufacturing plants in 43 communities of eight states and four foreign countries. Employing 34 000 people, Burlington is today the world's largest producer of synthetic fabrics, and it is a recognized leader in the designing, development, research, merchandising and fashion fields as well as manufacturing.

If you are a young man or woman looking for a place in industry, we think you should consider textiles—and Burlington. It can hold a bright future for the person with the willingness to learn, ability to work, and the natural interest in this fascinating and competitive field.

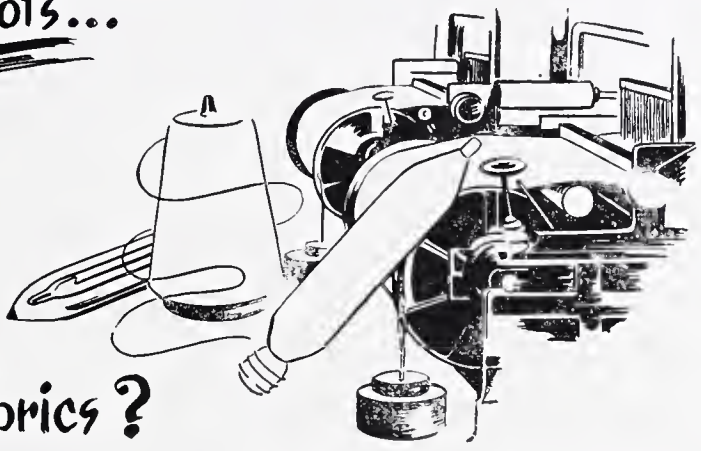
Interested in weaving ?



or modern fabrics ?

Indians weave baskets . . . writers weave plots . . . we weave modern fabrics for Americans. In our type of weaving . . . as in good baskets and good stories . . . good results can be achieved only by strict attention to fundamentals. That is a basic principle with us. Every fabric begins with a solid and practical foundation of quality. To do this job, and do it right, we need ambitious young people to help us. We are always glad to discuss opportunities in the textile business with those genuinely interested.
